when Jim Deckard engaged in a fight with an Indian boy, Steve Gravson, and beat him into insensibility with a rock.
Friends of Grayson notified the police, and when Policeman Klaber went to the station, Deckard fied to his house nearby, barricaded himself in, and, when Klaber approached, Deckard shot and killed him.

Sheriff Robinson gathered a posse in a few minutes and hurried to the scene. Part of this posse was made up of a group of negroes, whom the sheriff commissioned as deputies. As the posse approached the house Deckard opened fire with a rifle, firing as rapidly as he could load his weapon. Sheriff Robinson fell first, instantly killed. Then the two Chapman brothers, negro deputies, were slain. Deckard's house was surrounded by a frenzied mob of armed men. Fire was set to a house just north of Deckard's, volleys were poured into Deckard's house and he was shot down. He was seen to roll over on the floor, strike a match and set fire to his own house, which was soon a roaring furnace in which his heady was based. Militia Held in Readiness.

Governor Haskell, at Guthrie, was notified of the battle and of the bad feeling between whites and negroes that had grown out of it and threatened a race riot. The governor at once or-dered the militia company at Muskogee to prepare to go to Okmulgec, and a special train was made ready to carry the troops, the governor remaining at his office to keep in touch with the situation. News of the preparation to send militia here had a good effect on the disorderly element of both races, and at 7 o'clock tonight the crowd had dispersed and further trouble is not sending any more messages to congress or doing anything that had the appearance of being an attack upon railroads or other large corporations.

MISSING YOUNG WOMAN LOCATED IN CHICAGO

OAKLAND, Cal. Nov. 15.—Edna Clark, the young Alameda art student, who has been missing from home and for whom the police of Oakland and San Francisco have been searching since October 27, is safe and well in Chicago. A letter was received today by the girl's mother, Anita Y. Mnok, in this city, in which the writer says she is well. The letter states that the girl is working in Chicago under an assumed name.

The letter was turned over to Captain of Detoctives Poterson, who refuses to give out its centents. The police have communicated with the Chicago police department, asking for verification of the missive. The letter is emotional in tone and indicates that the young lady left bone owing to domestic misunderstandings.

MISS ELKINS IS NOT ENGAGED TO THE DUKE

Emphatic and Unqualified Denial of Many Statements Dictated by Her Father.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 15 .- Senator Stephen B. Eikins tonight made the emphatic announcement that no engagement exists between his daughter. Miss Katherine Eikins, and the Duke of the Abruzzi. The statement was made with the knowledge and consent of Miss Eikins, who desires that it should be given to the public, which has manifested so great an interest in the matter.

Senator Eikins arrived in Washington from his West Virginia home today. He was asked by a representative of the Associated Press if he cared to make any announcement concerning the reported engagement of his daughter. In response he dictated the following statement:

"I do not care to say anything further than that my daughter and the Duke of the Abruzzi are not engaged to be married and that I regret exceedingly the annoyance that must have come to the date and his family by reason of the Stephen B Elkins tonight made the em-

Senator Elkins dictated the foregoing statements very carefully and as carefully revised them after they were written. He was carnest in his expression of the hope that his statement would be accepted by the public in the spirit in which it was made. He has felt a delicacy in discussing the matter, but said the time had arrived under all the circumstances to make an announcement of the facts.

GERMAN EMPEROR

AUDIENCE AT KIEL WITH

VON BUELOW POSTPONED

Delay Due to Sudden Death of Forbidden City in Mourning, General Count Huelen-Haezler.

BERLIN, Nov. 15,-Because of the ragic death of General Count Huelen-Haezler, chief of the German military cabinet, the emperor has telegraphed Chancellor von Buelow that the audience arranged to take place at Kiel tomorrow aboard the batleship Deutschland must be deferred. The emperor will return to Berlin Tuesday, when the meeting between him and the imperial chancellor, which the country awaits with intense feeling, is expected to take Count Huelen-Haezler was laughing and talking after dinner at Donauschingen last evening when he suddenly fell, stricken with apoplexy, in the emperor's presence, and died almost immediately. He held the position of imperial ad he held the position of imperial adjutant for nineteen years and was the emperor's constant companion. He had the ability to tell most interesting stories in the Berlin dialect, and had an immense influence in the army because of the promotions passing through his hands. The higher commands depended much upon his judgment.

Emperor William was greatly shocked at the death his aide, and cancelled all engagements at Kiel, but after a requiem mass was said at Donauschingen early this morning, at which the emperor laid a wrenth upon the casket containing the body, he went to Baden-Baden, where the empress is visiting her great aunt, the Grand Duchess Louise His majestiy will return to Donauschingen tomorrow and from there will proceed to Berlin.

Public irritation against the emperor, as indicated in the newspapers and in general conversation wherever one goes, seems to increase with the dolay in receiving the chancellor. The expectation appears to be that the emperor, if he recognizes the feeling of the country, will make some sort of a declaration which may tranquilize its subjects.

The depth of the popular sense of Ruler Much Affected.

The depth of the popular sense of grievance against the emperor is almost inexplicable. One of the leaders of the National Liberals in the Beichstag said:

"The emperor has lost 50 per cent of his influence in Germany within two weeks."

Loss of Influence Charged.

The general manager of one of the principal machinery works in Berlin, who was present when this remark was made added: "Yes, he has lost 90 per cont."

Since the growing feeling against Emperor William's personal inititive, both in internal and external affairs, was suddenly released by his now famous 'published interview,' there have been exhibitions of violence that have astonished even the advanced radicals. The 'interview' merely has been the ocasion for a passionate expression of the German people's desire that the overeign's power shall be limited to sovereign's power shall be limited to close constitutional interpretations.

'The people have become conscious.'' says Heinrich Rippley, editor of the Tagliche Rundschau, a conservative court organ, which is supposed to be the emperor's favorite paper, 'that their welfare or the ills of the empire depends upon a single individual who has done nothing this week to quiet the done nothing this week to quiet the fears of the people or to become recon-ciled with them. His Majesty seems to have little appreciation of how his personal hobbies and antipathies are re-corded?

None to Defend Cause.

No journal can be found in the country that does not take the position that the emperor's personal power in affairs of state must be limited, and a great number of clippings, embodying the number or clippings, emboaying the comments of the newspapers, have been assembled by the foreign office and forwarded to Baron Bucker-Jenisch. These will be submitted to the emperor or examination.

As to what terms should be in the country as a whole seems to be in doubt, but the Socialist and Radicals, are loud in their domands for strict are loud in their domands for Strict Parking in the country responsibility. Dr. Theoare loud in their domands for strict parliamentary responsibility. The powerful conservative interests look to Prince von Buelow to obtain guarantees that His Majesty will faithfully observe the will of the minor German kingdoms and of parliament, and that in foreign affairs even the least important business shall be transacted alone, through and by the consent of the chanceller.

The chancellor.

The chancellor will present to the emperor a strong statement with reference to the attitude of the Reichstag, saying that the entire body had assented to declarations made by its members that the emperor had exceeded his constitutional authority by stitutional authority in discussing a foreigners controverted questions a which the government is identified. The assembled fleet simultaneously saluted the emperor's train when it arrived today from Toklo. EMPRESS OF CHINA CALLED BY DEATH

Nearly Half-Century Ruled With Iron Hand.

CHILD OF THREE YEARS IS NOW UPON THRONE

but No Serious Outbreaks Are Feared.

PEKING, Nov. 15 .- Tsze Hsi An, the dowager-empress of China, autocratic head of the government, which she directed without successful interference since 1861, and without protest since since 1861, and without protest since 1881, died, at 2 o'clock this afternoon. The announcement of the dowager-empress's death was official and followed closely upon the announcement that Kuang Hsu, the emperor, had died yesterday at 5 o'clock in the afternoon, but it is believed the deaths occurred a considerable time before that set down in the official statement.

An edict issued at 8 o'clock this morning placed upon the throne Prince Pu Yi, the three-year-old son of Prince Chun, the regent of the empire, in ac-

Chun, the regent of the empire, in ac-cordance with a promise given by the dowager-empress soon after the mar-riage of Prince Chun in 1903. An edict issued on Friday made Prince Pu Yi heir-presumptive.

Troops Were at Hand. The foreign legations were notified this morning, by the foreign board, of the death of the emperor and the suc-cession of Prince Pu Yi. Troops have been in readiness for several days to quell any disorders that might arise on the death of Kuang Hsu. The nossibility of uprisings was made greater because of the fact that the death of the dowager-empress was known to be close at hand. Two divisions of troops the dowager-empress was known to be close at hand. Two divisions of troops have been held in reserve, and these are now stationed in various quarters of the city. Twenty geodarmes were dispatched to guard the legation, but up to the present the duties of the forces have been slight. It was announced that the legation guard was ordered out at "the special call of the legations, on account of the emperor's death."

Prince Chun, the regent, has ordered the viceroys and governors to take pre-cautions for the continuation of the ad-ministration of the provinces as here-tofore, and he has ordered a hundred days of mourning. The court will go into moruning for three years.

City in Mourning. Peking has already been greatly transformed. All red objects have been removed and blue substituted. The peo-ple learned this evening of the deatly the downger-empress, and, although of the downger-empress, and, although the Chinese are in no wise emotional, they showed that they were profoundly impressed by the passing of their pow-erful ruler. The foreigners in the city are watching the strange ceremonies with great interest. At the palace elaborate rites are being observed. A flood of edicts has been sent forth. Deathbed observances of three thou-flood of edicts has been sent forth.

Deathbed observances of three thousand years also marked the passing of the emperor and dowager. They died alone and unattended, although suralone and unattended, although surrounded by circles of abject spectators, who remained a rod distant, as, on account of the sacred persons of their majestics, they could not be approached.
The emperor died as he had lived, without whatever kind of administration or scientific aid. For months be had refused to permit the services of foreign physicians, and, although it was stated that he had gone back to the old form of medical treatment, it is believed that latterly he received no treatment at all. ment at all.

Last Lucid Interval.

The government has given out that the dowager-empress, in a lucid interval on Friday last, received Prince Ching, who is a Manchu, and a member of the royal family, and an unoved the ediets declaring Prince Pa Yi heir-presumptive and Prince Chun regent of the empire. Prince Chung was, at the beginning of the Boxer outbreak, Lord Chamberlain of the court, and commander of the Peking field forces. It was on him that the foreign officials hung hopes of the envoys. He has had many of the positions, and was high in imperial favor.

That the dowager-empress took this step is discredited. Nevertheless, she is believed to have successfully established the Chun regime, which is the Manchu regime, without object, and the opinion is held here that this solution of the difficulty, which has confronted the government, is the best possible.

Discretary, Not. Peared

Disorders Not Feared.

Until word of the death is spread broadcast, no disorders are apprehended. China is quieter now than at any time since 1900. Local disorders in the South are possible on any pretext, but the North is more inclined to peace. There are few signs of antagonism to foreigners, and there is no manner of doubt that Prince Chun will be able to meet the situation. He is manner of doubt that Frince Chun will be able to meet the situation. He is recognized as thoroughly progressive, and is the most acceptable man that could be chosen to those most disposed to cause trouble, the reformers. Antagonism on the part of the conservatives and even an insurrection more tives and even an insurrection move ment is conceivable, because the death of the powerful woman, who dom-inated all, and the weakling emperor sweeps away the old palace corrup-
